Facing murder and attempted murder charges

Elba man's trial underway in Covington County for June 2014 shooting in Opp

The trial of an Elba man facing murder and attempted murder charges in the June 2014 shooting in an Opp night club is under way. Jury selection began Monday, and opening arguments begin later this week.

Kanavis Malik Cole is charged with murder for the shooting death of 20-year-old Demetrice Hines and the attempted murder of 26-year-old James Danshay Edwards.

Police reports indicate that Cole allegedly opened fire at approximately 1:30 in the Little Harlem Club the morning of June 8, 2014. The club has since been closed.

Enterprise attorney Gary Bradshaw is defending Cole.

Bradshaw previously filed a motion seeking immunity under stand your ground, arguing that Cole's actions were made "in reasonable self-defense and/or reasonable defense of others."

Judge Lex Short denied that motion in March of 2017.

Three shots were fired in the night club, injuring five, law enforcement officials said in a June, 2014 press conference. Two months before his death, in April of 2014, Hines posted on social media, "I'ma dead man walkn." He was shot in the side of the torso.

Revamped county website unveiled

by Linda Hodge, Editor

A new website for the Coffee County Commission went "live" Monday, Jan. 22, and it was previewed during the Coffee County Commission meeting.

Frank Eason, project manager for the website project, said the county's website still has the same web address as before [www.coffeecounty.us], but it is a much-improved operational site.

"It has taken almost a year to get everything together," Eason said. "But, it is live! A wonderful, wonderful site."

Eason did point out that under the emergency management link, citizens can sign up for emergency alerts within the county. He said these could be delivered via text message or email, depending on how each citizen prefers.

Also, Eason noted there is now an employment link on the website. He said this link would list any county jobs available.

Eason also said jobs can now be applied for via this employment link on the new website. He said those interested in knowing about available county jobs could sign up here and upload a resume to the site.

Eason said having this link on the website, alleviates having to apply for jobs through the career center in New Brockton.

For those that may not have computer/internet access to be able to apply at home for the county jobs, he said kiosks would soon be available at the courthouses in Elba and Enterprise, as well as, the commission office to allow applicants to apply through those methods.

Eason encouraged all citizens to check out the new county website. He said he and his staff were very pleased with how the project worked out, and he feels this new website will certainly better serve the needs of Coffee County and its citizens.

NEW GARBAGE CANS, with an all new look, are showing up all around Elba, but mainly in the downtown area right now. The cans, gray in color and bearing the Elba emblem, will be phased in over the next several years. This first group is 580 and after replacing all the downtown cans, the aim is to replace badly damaged receptacles first. Those taken up will be used as replacements of damaged cans or for parts to repair damaged cans. Each year the city will purchase a group of new cans until all have been replaced. This should take from three to five years. Shown above replacing cans last week in the bitter cold weather are from left: James DeBoer, Bennett Aughtman, Jerome Blackmon and Jimmy Clay.

Josh Wilson seeking 12th Judicial Circuit Judge seat

Assistant District Attorney Josh Wilson has qualified to run as a Republican candidate for the office of Twelfth Judicial Circuit Judge.

The Twelfth Judicial Circuit is comprised of Coffee and Pike Counties, and for the past five years Wilson has served as an Assistant District Attorney for the Circuit.

"It is both a pleasure and honor to serve the people of Coffee and Pike Counties as an Assistant District Attorney," Wilson said. "As Circuit Judge I would have the opportunity to continue to serve the citizens of these great counties and ensure a fair court and equal justice for all."

Wilson was born and raised in the New Hope community in northern Coffee County, but also has deep roots in Pike County, as his mother's family is from the Brundidge area.

"I spent as much time growing up in Pike County as I did in Coffee County and learned a lot of valuable lessons about hard work and determination from my family," he said.

Wilson's father passed away after an extended illness when he was a junior in high school, and he pays tribute to his upbringing to the work and sacrifice that his mother made to ensure that he had every opportunity to succeed.

"It was not easy, but she made sure that I had everything I needed and she instilled in me a desire to

With Ferrin Cox

"A thousand words will not leave so deep an impression as one deed." – Henrik Ibsen

Alabama rated two school districts on a recently released list of "Best School Districts". Mountain Brook came in at Number 43 while Vestavia Hills was Number 253. The group, National Council For Home Safety and Security, considered: 1. School Funding; 2. Student Performance; 3. Dropout Rate; 4. Poverty Rate. Massachusetts appeared all up and down the list. Georgia and Tennessee had one each. Neither Mississippi nor Florida made the list at all. The opening of the news release acknowledged that almost all experts agree that money is important . . . the more the merrier. For that reason we were surprised that Florida schools didn't get in the top 500 in the nation. Some parts of Florida harbor a bunch of rich folks.

If not for the fact the news media kept it in the headlines 24 hours a day, the government shutdown of last weekend would have hardly been noticed. The debate over just who should be blamed for the inability of the lawmakers and the White House to agree on anything will be ongoing until some other hot talking point emerges. Personally, we blame the whole bunch. No, the Democrats didn't bow to pressure to keep the country running smoothly . . . not at first. But the Republicans are in control of the whole game and they couldn't collect their folks together for long enough to get them to all vote for the same thing. President Trump apparently gets his share of the blame, from both Democrats and his own party. So, pick your villain and you can find evidence to sustain your argument all night long – be you in the local bar or in your best friend's parlor.

The irony of the government shutdown is that it could happen again in just weeks! The continuing resolution was for weeks just to "get them over the hump", a saying from our youth when the sale of a couple of hogs, a load of corn, etc., would get the family over the hump. We heard our younger brother say that a couple of years ago. Hopefully the movers and shakers of Washington will get a budget deal together so this uncertainty will not go on and on and on.

The Elba School System is already taking enrollment in the 4-year old school program for next school year. They are looking at adding another class of this age group but can't get the additional teacher funding without a few more children enrolled. That means they need YOU to get your child enrolled without delay.

The cold, cold weather of last week has additional people asking, "What do you mean – global warming?" We will not jump into that debate here today but understand the reasons for such questions. Of course the experts who make those claims point out the AVERAGE temperature is rising, as evidenced by the melting ice at the North and South Poles. They are not talking about the news-making bone chilling snowstorms that hit Alabama every ten to fifteen years. Yet it is understandable for us regular folks to question the global warming warning as we bundle up and tip-toe carefully through the snow and ice.

Another rash of school shootings has hit the U. S. in the last few days. Writing this on Tuesday morning leaves us a bit in the dark on the "why" of this latest shooting in Kentucky, but it left one dead and several in the hospital.

Who Knew? Turns out I really like watching hockey

by Linda Hodge, Editor

I experienced my first hockey game a couple weeks ago.

I was not real sure what I was expecting in attending the game, but it exceeded any expectation and derailed any doubt I might have had prior to the start of the contest.

My sister, the big time 'girly-girl' attended a hockey game a few years back and came home raving about how much fun she had at the game. She had mentioned going again several times, but we just had not made it.

She celebrated a birthday in December, and I decided tickets to the hockey game would be a great idea. So, when I got to checking I found that the Pensacola Flyers [the team she had first watched] was hosting the Birmingham Bulls [I wasn't even aware there is a hockey team in Birmingham, Alabama] on Friday night, Jan. 12th.

A click here and there on the 'ole Internet, and we were set to make the trip to Pensacola. Of course, we took Dad along for the fun!

In between revealing the gift to sis on her Dec. 13th birthday and awaiting the actual trip on Jan. 12th, I kept asking myself, "What in the world does my sister find so fascinating about hockey, of all sports?!!!"

Our view was pretty good for the Pensacola Flyers (blue uniforms) vs. Birmingham Bulls game. The paid attendance for this Jan. 12th game was almost 5,000 people.

When we arrived at the Civic Center in Pensacola – the home of the Flyers, I was pleasantly surprised to find I had done a superb job in picking our seats as we were on the third row behind the glass. That put us at eye level with the players on the ice!

The pre-game was entertaining, but the real fun began at the drop of the first puck.

I suddenly realized hockey is a non-stop action-filled sport that moves quickly. It was high-octane fun!

Even during the breaks in action, there is fun-filled entertainment.

I'll be honest...other than knowing a team has scored when the puck makes it past the goalie into the net, I don't know much at all about the rules of the game. But, I found that did not matter much. It was just absolute fun watching the teams go back and forth on the ice trying to score the goals.

And, oh boy, let 'em push one another into the wall one too many times, and I assure you there will be a scuffle!

We sat next to one of the penalty boxes, and it was occupied on several occasions during the game by a player. Hey, turns out that is just part of the fun of the game!

The funniest thing that happened, however, was when sis missed that a player was about to be slammed into the glass in front of us. I saw it coming...she did not. When the slam came, she screamed and jumped to the point that she scared me!! We got a good laugh off that one.

Little sis knew what she was talking about when she said attending a hockey game is loads of fun. We will go again!!

This was also Dad's first time watching hockey in person, and he agreed it is well worth attending a game.

Oh yeah...the Flyers won the game 5-1!

~ It's Not Up for Debate ~ Guest Editorial by U.S. Representative Martha Roby

45 years ago this month, the Supreme Court of the United States ruled in Roe v. Wade to make abortion legal and available nationwide. While many abortion activists celebrate this infamous anniversary, it represents a particularly somber occasion for those of us who advocate for life at all stages.

Every year since this ruling, the pro-life community has gathered in Washington to march in peaceful protest. The 2018 March for Life took place on Friday, January 19th – and wow, the pro-life energy was certainly high in Washington.

This year the March for Life theme was "Love Saves Lives." Leading up to and during the March, the pro-life community participated in a social media campaign to share photos, videos, and thoughts, to shed light on why we march – and on the many reasons why life at every stage is worth fighting for.

I'd like to extend a very sincere "thank you" to each and every person from our great state who made the long trip to participate in the March. I am truly inspired by the thousands of March for Life participants and their dedication to the pro-life movement. I stand with you.

I was especially impressed by a young lady from Montgomery named Agnes Armstrong. She's a graduate of the Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School and is currently a sophomore at Auburn University. She was selected to speak to more than 600,000 people at the pre-March rally to offer the perspective of a young female college student.

This past summer, Agnes wrote a letter to March for Life President Jeanne Mancini thanking her for the impact the organization has made. Mrs. Mancini was moved by the letter and asked Agnes to be featured as this year's March for Life "Young Adult" keynote speaker. I am so thankful to have young leaders like Agnes to represent our state in such a remarkable way. It's because of individuals like her that our pro-life momentum is as strong as it is.

I am excited to report that during the March for Life festivities, the House took action to defend the defenseless by taking up and passing H.R. 4712, the Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act. I was proud to cosponsor the legislation, and I also had the unique opportunity to manage debate of the bill while it was being considered on the floor.

At this point, I don't think it's a secret that I am unapologetically pro-life, and I believe that our laws and policies should assign the utmost importance to life at every stage. I have stood on the House floor many times in defense of the unborn, but this time, we weren't talking about the unborn. H.R. 4712 seeks to protect those who have already been born.

The bill is pretty simple. It states that if a baby is born alive after a failed abortion, he or she must be given the same exact medical care that would be given to any other baby. I know Congress will continue to play politics about when life begins and argue about the point at which the law should step in to protect it – and I understand not everyone agrees with my strong pro-life stance.

However, I cannot fathom how any person could be opposed to legislation that protects babies who are so alive that you can look them in the eye.

Of course, I supported this measure, but it did feel strange to take a stand in defense of living, breathing children – to even have to make the case that a baby who survives an abortion and is born in this world should be treated just like a baby born any other way.

Unfortunately, I didn't have a choice. There is currently no law mandating that a baby born alive after a failed abortion receives medical treatment instead of being left to die.

That's why this bill is necessary. It would require under federal law, nationwide, that a baby born alive after an abortion attempt receives the same care that any other baby would.

I know that as a Member of Congress, part of my job is to debate the issues facing our nation, and while I take this responsibility very seriously, I don't believe this particular issue is up for debate. I hope the Senate acts swiftly and passes this bill, and I'll keep you informed as we progress.

learn," he said. Wilson's mother was a history teacher at Arton High School for nearly 30 years.

After high school Wilson went on to attend Troy State University and graduated with a degree in accounting and a Master's of business administration. He became a Certified Public Accountant and practiced in both public accounting and the private industry before returning to law school to obtain his Juris Doctorate.

"I enjoyed my time working as a CPA and the experiences that I gained were invaluable, but a law degree and the opportunity to practice law was something that I always wanted," Wilson said. "There were many sacrifices that my family had to make so that I could attend law school and I would have never made it without the support of my wife Jill."

Wilson attended Faulkner University's Jones School of Law and graduated in two and a half years. After finishing law school, he opened a law office in Elba and practiced there before joining the District Attorney's Office in 2013.

"I've always had a servant's heart, and I'm thankful that Tom Anderson (District Attorney) gave me a chance to work in his office and serve the people of our Circuit," Wilson said. "Coffee County and Pike County have always been home, and always will be. The chance to give back to so many who have helped me along my way is the greatest way to honor them. As Circuit Judge I will maintain the same dedication to serving the people of Coffee and Pike County as I have as an Assistant District Attorney and will bring honesty and fairness to the bench."

The seat for which Wilson is seeking is being vacated by the retirement of longtime Circuit Judge Tom Head of Elba.

"Judge Head has been a mentor and friend to me for many years, and it would be an absolute honor to follow in his footsteps," said Wilson. "I realize he will be leaving some very large shoes to fill, but I am up to the challenge."

Josh is married to Jill Martin Wilson, an occupational therapist. They have two children, John Martin (14) and Jay (9). The Wilson's are active members of the First Baptist Church of Elba.

The Republican Primary election will be held June 5, 2018.

Top tellers back this weekend for Pike Piddlers Storytelling Festival

CHURCH NEWS

PASTOR'S CORNER

Rev. Michael Woodham
First Baptist Church of Elba

A sifted life is an influential life. Your greatest influence takes place after you have been sifted and survived. Sifting is how God separates the old from the new, the good fruit from the bad fruit, the material that is unstable to that which God can effectively employ for His eternal purposes. Read 1st Peter 4:12. We must be ready to persevere, to push through the difficult seasons, working with all our strength while depending on God's grace to sustain us.

A story is told of a man who looked out his window at the neighbor lady's wash hanging on the clothesline outside her house. He exclaimed to his wife, "My, she needs to use some bleach on those whites, they are filthy!"

The following day he exclaimed how she needed to change detergents. The third day again he noticed it, "I would be embarrassed to have my clothes washed by this lady." but on the fourth day, he was surprised at how clean and bright her washing looked. He said to his wife, "Why, she must have changed her detergents finally!" "No," his wife replied, "I just cleaned the windows."

In a season of sifting we must learn to develop a new vision, a fresh perspective on our circumstances, rooted in God's truth. We must learn to process what we see through a different paradigm, one that is informed by the truth about God that is revealed to us in His Gospel. The most important decision you will ever make is to follow Jesus Christ, but the second is the attitude with which you choose to follow Jesus Christ. This perspective will largely determine how you approach life experiences and will shape your behavior, your response to problems, and the way you deal with life's challenges. In many situations, the only difference between what we'd see as an ordeal and what we'd see as an opportunity is our attitude. Each of us is only a change in perspective away from seeing our circumstances as God's will for our lives instead of a disappointing setback.

Read 1st Peter 4:19. Peter indicates that there is a right way to suffer that is according to the will of God. The question is not whether we will suffer but how we choose to suffer. The suffering we experience is never the goal in sifting. It is only the means to a greater end: knowing and walking with Christ. Sifting teaches us to establish a pattern of obedience. It humbles us and breaks us of our self-sufficiency, leading to a greater dependency on Jesus.

Remember: Jesus is always more than enough for us, but we will not know until our faith is tested.

Winter Ladies' Bible Study to begin Feb. 5 at First Baptist Church Elba

A Winter Ladies' Bible Study will begin Monday Feb. 5, at 6:30 p.m., at First Baptist Church Elba.

The study will be on Steadfast Love by Lauren Chandler.

There are times when worship overflows effortlessly from a heart full of gratitude and praise. And there are times when God seems far and we feel we have nothing to offer. Throughout it all, God shows us His steadfast love.

Psalm 107 is a call to worship. It reminds us that each season of life is an opportunity to reveal the anchor of our souls.

In this 7-session Bible study, Lauren Chandler uses Psalm 107 to show us how to face both storms and deserts with courage and trust in Jesus, and to discover how tests in our journeys of faith reveal the true condition of our hearts. There is no fear for the one who fears the Lord, the one whose soul is anchored in His steadfast love.

Study books for Steadfast Love may be purchased from Lifeway Bookstore in Dothan, or from Lifeway.com/steadfastlove online. Call Carolyn Hocutt (334-750-4205) if you have any questions.

Views From The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our little grandson Lawson went out and tried to build a snowman last week after the overnight snow and ice that blanketed the area, but after a few minutes declared it was too cold to stay outside and said that it needs to snow again on a warmer day. I'm not sure if Mother Nature will agree, but last week was a little too cold for lots of folks.

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers rolled to four lopsided wins last week to push their winning streak to seven games and over the past two weeks have been among the most impressive teams in the state. The Tigers clubbed 3A Daleville by 45 points and handled 3A Opp by 29 points in two of the wins, while in-between they buried Samson by 41 points and spanked area foe Zion Chapel by 54 points in a game in which they led 39-1 at the half. Elba has been rolling up the points against almost everybody it plays, but the key to the Tigers recent success to me has been the move to a 2-3 zone on defense that allows the aggressive Elba defenders to get after the ball, while 6-6 Alex Wright gets to stay around the basket and dominate the boards. There are still two weeks left in the regular season before the post-season fun begins, but right now it looks like the Tigers have plans to be playing for a couple of more weeks.

 The Elba Lady Tigers closed the week with two big wins to improve their record to 7-5 and have slowly developed into a solid team on both ends of the court. On offense, the Lady Tigers can drive to the bucket for easy points, but have become deadly from behind the arc and are a true deep threat. Elba may have watched a win slip away against a very good Daleville team early in the week and were simply no match for top-ranked Samson, but showed its determination in a big area win over Zion Chapel and then had little trouble getting past 3A Opp. The Lady Tigers are a much better team than most fans realize and the guess here is their best is yet to come.

 Last week's snow and ice played havoc with the schedule of some of the area teams, but it was another exciting week of action as the regular season winds down. In boys action, New Brockton picked up its first win of the season over winless Zion Chapel and may now take off and become a factor in the area race, while Kinston lost at the buzzer to a talented team from Florala and Brantley fell at home to Luverne. Over with the girls, New Brockton stayed alive in the area race with a win over Zion Chapel, while Kinston continued to win and Brantley kept plugging away and kept its area title hopes alive and well. The final two weeks of the regular season should be fun to watch!

 In closing.... high school baseball and softball teams are busy at work getting ready for the upcoming season, and while many teams are a little short-handed at practice due to their players still involved in basketball, the players that can practice are hard at work as the season's opening date of Feb. 20 draws near. It is a busy time to be an athlete at the high school level, but a fun time for all involved, except maybe the coaches!

The Elba Tigers hit the court four times last week in a six-day span and posted wins in all four games to push their winning streak to seven games and improve their record to 9-5.

Following are highlights of the busy week of action:

Elba 67 Daleville 22

The Elba Tigers tipped off the week on Monday afternoon and rolled to an impressive 67-22 win over the Daleville Warhawks, in Elba.

An early 3-pointer by Jay Jordan gave the Tigers a 5-0 lead two minutes into the contest and Elba's shooters remained hot from the outside throughout the opening stanza as Vilee Sams added a pair of 3-pointers and Jordan added his second basket from long range late to give the Tigers an 18-8 lead heading into the second quarter.

Daleville pulled within 20-10 with 7:34 left in the second quarter, but Elba's Alex Wright and Richmon Singletary combined to spark a 14-0 run that pushed the Tigers lead to 34-10 with 4:18 still left in the stanza, and the Tigers Dezmon Roberson and Keyonta Fitzpatrick added late baskets to allow Elba to open up a lopsided 41-15 halftime advantage.

Elba's Charvez Hill took command inside in the third quarter and scored 10 points to help the Tigers extend their lead to 57-17, and the Tigers never eased up as John Martin Wilson and Seth Ware drained long 3-pointers in the game's final two minutes as Elba claimed the 67-22 win.

Charvez Hill scored 16 points to lead the Tigers, while Alex Wright added 13 and Jay Jordan scored 11. Vilee Sams scored 9 points and other Elba scorers included Richmon Singletary 8, Dezmon Roberson 4, John Martin Wilson 3 and Seth Ware 3.

Elba 67 Samson 26

The Elba Tigers traveled to Samson on Tuesday night and ended all doubt early as they opened up a 45-14 halftime lead and coasted in with a big 67-26 win.

Elba's Vilee Sams and Richmon Singletary scored 10 points apiece in the opening quarter to help the Tigers grab an early 24-4 lead, and the Tigers didn't take their feet off the pedal in the second quarter as Sams and Seth Ware combined to pour in four 3-pointers as Elba's lead grew to 45-14.

The pace slowed down a bit in the third quarter. However, the Tigers never lost command as they outscored Samson 13-2 in the quarter to stretch their lead to 58-16 and rolled to the lopsided road win.

Vilee Sams scored 18 points and Richmon Singletary added 12 points to spark the Tigers, while other Elba scorers included John Martin Wilson 9, Seth Ware 8, Keyonta Fitzpatrick 7, Jay Jordan 6, Alex Wright 6 and Kendre Jordan 4. Cox scored 10 points to lead Samson.

Elba 66 Zion Chapel 12

The Elba Tigers roared out to a 39-1 halftime lead and never looked back Friday night as they remained undefeated in area play with a lopsided 66-12 win over the Zion Chapel Rebels, in Elba.

The Tigers came out clicking on all cylinders in the first quarter as Vilee Sams, Richmon Singletary and Jay Jordan all did damage from behind the arc, while Alex Wright and Dezmon Roberson took control inside as the Tigers opened up a 21-0 advantage.

Wright continued to dominate inside in the second quarter and scored seven points, and while Jordan did add his second 3-pointers of the night, the Tigers connected on five of eight free throws to go in at the half with an amazing 39-1 lead.

Zion Chapel scored seven points in the third quarter as its offense finally woke up, but Elba continued to find its way to the basket with ease and behind an 11-point outburst from Walter Craighead and a long 3-pointers from Jay Jordan extended its lead to 57-8 heading into the final stanza.

Elba's Seth Ware scored six points in the closing quarter and the Tigers hit all four of their free throw opportunities to cap off the big 66-12 area win.

Walter Craighead, Jay Jordan and Alex Wright all scored 11 points to spark the Tigers, while also scoring for Elba were Seth Ware 7, Richmon Singletary 7, Dezmon Roberson 7, Vilee Sams 6, Kendre Jordan 4, Keyonta Fitzpatrick 2 and Tre Tillis 1.

Scoring for the Rebels were Joey McCrory 4, Baile Deal 2, Brock Cardwell 2, Matt Richburg 2 and Bhret Flowers 2.

Elba 69 Opp 40

court on Saturday afternoon with an impressive 69-40 win over the Opp Bobcats, in Elba.

Elba's Alex Wright scored five points in the opening quarter to help the Tigers pull ahead early. However, the Tigers connected on only 4 of 11 free throw opportunities and after one quarter of play owned a slim 12-9 advantage.

The Elba offense began to find its rhythm in the second quarter and displayed its weapons both from the outside and inside in the stanza as Jay Jordan drained two long 3-pointers, Vilee Sams and Richmon Singletary both added one basket from beyond the arc, and Alex Wright muscled inside to score seven points as the Tigers exploded for 27 points and grabbed a 39-17 halftime advantage.

Opp took the fight to the Tigers in the third quarter and outscored Elba 16-12 to cut the Tigers lead to 51-33, but Elba regained command in the fourth quarter and sparked by a 9-point outburst from Richmon Singletary pulled away to post the solid 69-40 win.

Richmon Singletary scored 17 points to lead Elba, while Jay Jordan added 14, Alex Wright scored 13 and Vilee Sams added 10. Other Elba scorers included Walter Craighead 4, Chavez Hill 4, Keyonta Fitzpatrick 3, Kendre Jordan 3, and Tre Tillis 1.

Matthews led Opp with 12 points.

Gamecocks dump Rebels 71-48

The New Brockton Gamecocks got a much needed win last week by posting a 71-48 area victory over the Zion Chapel Rebels. The Gamecocks jumped out to an early 16-point lead thanks to five first half 3-pointers by Billy McKenna and easily held on to claim the win. Elba came out ready to play and pulled out to a 7-5 lead with 4:45 left in the opening quarter on a 3-pointer by Sandra Lindsey, only to see Daleville close the quarter with a 13-0 run to open up an 18-7 advantage.

Daleville still owned a big 20-10 lead midway through the second quarter, but a 3-pointer by Sandra Lindsey sparked an Elba rally and a late 3-pointer by Kira Starks enabled the Lady Tigers to pull within 24-20 at the half.

Elba's Breanna Sanders drained a 3-pointer early in the third quarter to spark a 5-0 run that put the Lady Tigers back on top 25-24 and Kira Starks and Laken Cooks nailed back-to-back bombs midway through the quarter to pull Elba back even at 33-33 with 3:31 left in the stanza. Cooks added her second 3-pointer of the quarter with less than a minute remaining on the clock as the Lady Tigers entered the final stanza on top 38-35.

Elba was still ahead 40-38 with 6:26 left after a basket by Sandra Lindsey, but Daleville answered with an 8-0 run to go on top 46-40 with 3:04 remaining. A basket by Melissa Williams ended the Daleville rally, and when A'Maysia Whitfield scored from inside with 17-seconds left the Lady Tigers had tied the score at 46-46. Daleville hit one of two free throws with four ticks left on the clock to take a 47-46 lead; however, and a last-second shot caromed off the rim as Elba suffered the 47-46 loss.

ICICLES WERE STILL HANGING FROM THE ROOF OF BASIN BAPTIST CHURCH LATE WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, JAN. 17, AS TEMPS REMAINED BELOW FREEZING.

Snow and icicles are shown on employee vehicles at the Elba Food Giant last Wednesday around 11 a.m.

New Brockton Police are shown on scene of a single vehicle accident that was the result of the dangerous icy roads the area experienced last Wednesday, Jan. 17th. This accident was on Hwy. 84 W in New Brockton, and happened around the 8 a.m. hour. Fortunately, there were no injuries. Coffee County EMA shared several photos much like this throughout the day as officials urged citizens to either stay off the roads or to use extreme caution if travel was a must that day.

A SNOW COVERED BACKYARD IN ELBA LAST WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 17TH

The front yard and rooftop of the Forest Lake Drive home in Elba looked much like a winter wonderland last Wednesday morning, Jan. 17th.

This photo shows an extremely icy road last Wednesday, Jan. 17, in the New Brockton area. This was the old U.S. Highway 84 in New Brockton. Road conditions, such as this, was the main reason law enforcement and emergency management officials were urging citizens to be careful if they had to travel last Wednesday. Some areas of the county's roadways remained icy throughout Thursday as well. It was the unsafe travel conditions that led local schools to close both Wednesday and Thursday last week.
